Picnic Blankets

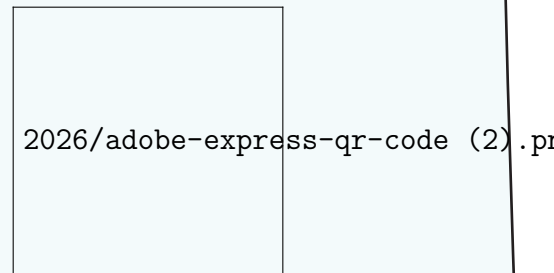

Summer has arrived, and it's the perfect time for a picnic! You can now borrow picnic blankets from the Fachschaft at the office (N0.001) to enjoy the sun on the lawn behind the Mathematics Centre. Feel free to come by!

Prepare for Pride

Pride isn't just in June! ColognePride will take place on July 5th, and Pride in Bonn on July 18th. The uni's Queer-Referat will organise joint travels, check out their website for more information. To prepare for the protests, we invite you to the annex at 4 pm on July 3rd. We will have supplies to design banners, and you can bring your own DIY (pride-related) projects: signs, flags, pins, bracelets, ... This event is also for you if you plan on going to a pride march and would like to connect with other attendees beforehand. We look forward to seeing you there!

Signal Announcement-Chat

In our continued effort to move away from meta-owned services, we have created an announcement channel on Signal. For now, the one on WhatsApp will stay in use, and all of our events will be announced in both groups. Scan the QR code below to join and never miss an event again!

All Gender Toilets

We are glad to announce that both toilets on the ground floor in the annex are now $\forall$ genders! This means that people of any gender are free to use either one.

In addition, there are all gender bathrooms in the library in the Mathematics Centre. In the annex, the toilets on both upper floors remain gendered.

Joke of the Month

What does the "B" in "Benoît B. Mandelbrot" stand for? - Benoît B. Mandelbrot.

Riddle of the Month

Five teams take part in a football tournament, and each team faces each other team exactly once. Every team is equally strong, and has equal chances to win each match. If no match can end in a draw, what is the possibility of one team winning every match they play in?

The solution will be on the next Loo Paper.

Riddle taken from "Hemmes mathematische Rätsel" (Spektrum der Wissenschaft)
